AUGUST 2011

Presidents Corner –Mike Ryan

Hi everyone. The night fly went over real well and the next one will be August 6, weather permitting. Mysterious lights in the sky, fire flies chasing each other, that's what it looks like. Try flying one, it's hard enough to tell top from bottom let alone left from right. It's all fun and great to watch. We will reschedule the joint fun fly with the Corsairs, maybe in September. We made a joint decision to postpone it due to 90+ heat. Keep those wings level and drink plenty of water.
